NEW STRIKE THREATENS CHICAGO AS SWITCHMEN'S UNION LOSES ITS GRIP; TRAFFIC IS IMPROVED

Freight Handlers and Rail Clerks to Vote Tonight on Walk-Out; "Outlaw" Trouble Nearing End, Officials Believe.

Chicago, April 19.—Threat of a new strike among railroad employees in the Chicago district today confronted claims of railroad managers and brotherhood officials that the "insurgent" switchmen's strike had been broken and the situation rapidly was returning to normal.

Eight thousand freight handlers and 30,000 railroad clerks employed on all lines entering Chicago will take a strike vote tonight after a conference today with the railroad heads, George A. Worrell, chairman of the Chicago and Northwestern railroad clerks, announced. He said he had been empowered to speak for all the clerks and freight handlers.

Worrell did not announce demands to be presented but said there "seemed little chance of compromise" and the men probably would strike Tuesday. In the switchmen's strike continued improvement in traffic conditions throughout the central and far west was noted. On the Pacific Coast railways operated today for the first time since the strike without embargoes on perishable freight.

Ten More Arrested.
As a result of a new federal descent on strike leaders in Chicago, 10 men were arrested. Nine were released on their own recognizance to appear today and make bonds of $1,000 each, but Harold Reading, chairman of the board of directors of the United Engineers' association, was sent to jail when he refused to pledge his loyalty to stay away from strike meetings.

The warrants, charging conspiracy to interfere with the transportation of food supplies, were issued yesterday. Grunau Arrested Again.
John Grunau, leader in the switchmen's strike, was summoned to the Federal building and ordered arrested today by United States Commissioner Mason. Grunau's arrest last Friday. Reports that he had violated promises now to attend meetings of the Chicago yardmen's association of which he is president were the cause for his arrest. Grunau took the same stand as on the occasion of his first arrest and refused to answer to the charge. He was ordered taken to the county jail at Joliet.

The men named in the warrants are John Grunau, chairman of the Chicago yardmen's association, and the original "outlaw" union, and the men who called the first strike, including Roy E. L. Phillips for the yardmen's association; R. P. Murphy, R. W. Meeker, Michael Callahan, Samuel Carver, R. P. Murphy, Buckley, Harold Reading, William Robinson.

Coal Shortage Felt.
Coal shortage felt by the strike made itself felt today. Elevator service in the federal and postoffice building was temporarily curtailed when the reserve supply of coal gave out.

School officials announced that even when the school engineers who are now on strike return, it will be impossible for some of the schools to open because of the lack of coal.

Slayer of Dr. Markee Is Fanatic

(By Associated Press.)
New York, April 19.—Thomas W. Shelley, known also as Thomas W. Simpkin, faced arraignment in Yorkville court today for shooting Dr. James Wright Markee, an eminent surgeon, in fashionable St. George's Episcopal church yesterday.

Police officials said they would later ask for the appointment of a commission to examine Shelley as to his lunacy. He told the police he had escaped from a lunatic asylum last week.

Is Army Deserter.
Detectives questioned Shelley in his cell in a fruitless endeavor to learn a motive for the murder. He told rambling stories of his career as an itinerant printer since coming to this country from England. It also developed that he was a deserter from the Canadian army, the police said.

A suitcase owned by the man was filled with religious tracts and newspaper clippings on a variety of subjects. He told the police he had never before seen or heard of Dr. Markee.

Reverend Welcomes Strangers
The murder occurred soon after the service of the church, Dr. Karl Relland, had concluded his morning sermon in which he had invited the congregation to be friendly to every stranger visiting the church. Dr. Markee was taking up the collection when his assailant with warning produced a revolver and fired shot in the head, death resulting soon afterward in a hospital.

Others Are Wounded.
Before Shelley was captured, outside of the church he fired another shot which grazed the cheek of J. Morgan Jones, an usher, and wounded Dr. George E. Brewer in the leg. Another shot just missed Herbert L. Satterlee, son-in-law of J. P. Morgan.

Worked in Lunatic Asylum.
Pacing his cell nervously today Simpkin told detectives in disjointed answers to questions that he had worked as a printer in Gary, Ind., Wisconsin, New York and elsewhere. He said he came to this country from England five years ago and was a member of the Yorkville church.

Mania for Hearing Sermons.
The prisoner's statements indicated that he had come to this city to kill J. Pierpont Morgan, but had found he was dead and that he then planned to slay former Representative George B. Miller, Duluth, Minn., an old enemy of his.

Simpkin was quoted as saying, "I'm only sorry for Dr. Markee's wife. My heart aches for her."

"If I had a gun, I'd do it all over again. If I had gotten away with this, I would have killed Congressman George B. Miller, Duluth, Minn., an old enemy of mine. If you see an I. W. W., kill him. Any man advocating the killing of another man should be killed himself."

Some people seem to ignore others and don't treat them kindly. Then, the prisoner told detectives, he was seized with an impulse to shoot.

"Since I came out of the asylum I always carried a revolver to make sure that I'd never be put in the asylum again."

He added that he had resolved to shoot the first person who tried to arrest him.

After the arraignment, Assistant Attorney O'Shaughnessy said he had obtained from Simpkin a voluntary confession that he had come to this city to kill J. Pierpont Morgan, but had found he was dead and that he then planned to slay former Representative George B. Miller, Duluth, Minn., an old enemy of his.

Dancing Is Vulgar and Indecent, Destroyer of Health; Declares Lewis

Charges Many Things Against the Public Dance As a Breeder of Immorality.
That Janesville is interested in the subject of dancing was evidenced by the Methodist church yesterday by the large audience which turned out to hear Rev. F. F. Lewis' sermon, "Dancing Is Immorality."

Mr. Lewis did not mince words to describe the lure of the dance hall and to "tear the mask from the face of the resurrected goddess of Aphrodite." As reasons for the address he said there seems to be a dancing craze sweeping the country which is a "source of evil."

Even in his own church, parents have asked Sunday school teachers to fix time of class not to interfere with dancing lessons, he declared.

The reasons advanced against dancing were:
"It opens the door to immorality and vicious religious activities, keeping young people from joining the church because they do not wish to give up dancing."

It is a destroyer of health, with its late hours and violent exercise.

If the element of sex were taken out, the dance would be a conversation in regard to their partners is common among men. An ordinary man cannot dance continually without becoming a dancing master.

He quoted dancing masters in regard to reforms necessary. "You might as well try to reform the moon as to reform dancing," he declared. He spoke of Episcopal and Catholic indictments against dancing.

Floodgates of Immorality.
"The whole pastime is preparing the way for the opening of the floodgates of immorality," he stated. (Continued on Page 3.)

ULTIMATUM IS ASSURED; COUNCIL MEETS IN ITALY

PREMIERS DISAGREE ON FORM OF COMPULSION TO ENFORCE TERMS
MEET AT SAN REMO

Turkish Question Delayed Due to Pressure on German Situation.

San Remo, April 19.—The inter-allied supreme council began its formal sessions today in the Villa Devauchau on the hills to the northwest of the main town.

While the Turkish question was on the program for first consideration by the conference today, it develops that there already has been discussion over the enforcing the execution of the treaty of peace with Germany. There seems no doubt that the premiers are agreed a joint declaration must be sent to Germany, stating their intention to fulfill the conditions of the Versailles treaty and that if she does not do so the allies will take measures to compel her.

The premiers have not yet agreed on the form of pressure to be used should Germany continue negotiations. Premier Lloyd George suggested economic pressure depriving Germany of food, raw materials and intercourse with the allied countries. Premier Clemenceau is described as having said that such pressure without the use of naval or military aid would be ineffective. He asserted that the allies would be forced to take such measures as the military and naval advisers deem sufficient.

Italy Is With Lewis.
Premier Mussolini is said to have resisted this conclusion. Premier Lloyd George is believed to be leaning towards the British premier's view and the matter will be decided in the final ultimatum to Germany with the threat of applying effective compulsion to the ultimatum that form the compulsion might take.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
New York, April 19.—Thomas W. Shelley, known also as Thomas W. Simpkin, faced arraignment in New York court today for shooting Dr. James Wright Markee, an eminent surgeon, in fashionable St. George's Episcopal church yesterday.

Police officials said they would later ask for the appointment of a commission to examine Shelley as to his lunacy. He told the police he had escaped from a lunatic asylum last week.

Is Army Deserter.
Detectives questioned Shelley in his cell in a fruitless endeavor to learn a motive for the murder. He told rambling stories of his career as an itinerant printer since coming to this country from England. It also developed that he was a deserter from the Canadian army, the police said.

A suitcase owned by the man was filled with religious tracts and newspaper clippings on a variety of subjects. He told the police he had never before seen or heard of Dr. Markee.

Rector Welcomes Strangers
The murder occurred soon after the rector of the church, Dr. Karl Relland, had concluded his morning sermon in which he had advised his congregation to be friendly to every stranger visiting the church. Dr. Markee was taking up the collection when his assailant without warning produced a revolver and fired a shot in the head, death resulting soon afterward in a hospital.

Others Are Wounded.
Before Shelley was captured, outside of the church he fired another shot which grazed the cheek of J. Morgan Jones, an usher, and wounded Dr. George E. Brewer in the leg. Another shot just missed Herbert L. Satterlee, son-in-law of J. P. Morgan.

Worked in Wisconsin.
Pursing his career as a printer today Simpkin told detectives in disjointed answers to questions that he had worked as a printer in Italy, Indiana, Wisconsin, New York and elsewhere. He said he came to this country from England five years ago and was a member of the New York branch of the Sons of Liberty.

Mania for Hearing Sermons.
The prisoner's statements indicated that he had a mania for hearing sermons. In St. George's yesterday he felt all right until he heard the minister say:

"Some people seem to ignore others and don't treat them kindly." "Then, the prisoner told detectives, he was seized with an impulse to shoot the minister."

"Since I came out of the asylum I always carried a revolver to make sure that I'd never be put in the asylum again."

He added that he had resolved to shoot the first person who tried to arrest him.

Wanted to Kill Morgan.
After arraignment, Assistant Attorney General Shaugnessy said he had obtained from Simpkin a voluntary confession that he had come to this city to kill Dr. Markee. He had planned to slay former Representative George B. Miller, Duluth, Minn., and Dr. Markee.

Simpkin was quoted as saying, "I'm only sorry for Dr. Markee's wife. My heart aches for her."

"I don't care for her. I'd do it all over again. If I had gotten away with this, I would have killed Congressman George B. Miller, Duluth, Minn., and Dr. Markee."

"If you see an I. W. W., kill him. Any man advocating the killing of another man should be killed himself."

Sonora leaders here today expressed satisfaction at word from Mexico that the Carranza forces in the state of Michoacan even though the official news of the affair described it as purely local in character.

Another source of gratification was the news in Sonora officers dispatches that a considerable force of Carranza troops in Sinaloa had transferred its allegiance to the Sonora standard and was active against Carranzista forces there.

Dancing Is Vulgar and Indecent, Destroyer of Health, Declares Lewis

Charges Many Things Against the Public Dance As a Breeder of Immorality.

That Janesville is interested in the subject of dancing was evidenced at the Methodist church yesterday by the large audience which turned out to hear Rev. F. P. Lewis' sermon, "Five Reasons Why Methodists Don't Dance."

Mr. Lewis did not mince words to describe the lure of the dance hall and to "tear the mask from this seductive goddess of Aphrodite." As reasons for the address he said there seems to be a dancing craze sweeping the country which is a "scourge."

Even in his own church, parents have asked Sunday school teachers to fix time of class not to interfere with dancing lessons, he said.

The reasons advanced against dancing were:

1. It weakens and vitiates religious activities, keeping young people from joining the church because they do not wish to give up dancing.

2. It is a destroyer of health, with its late hours and violent exercise.

3. It is an indecent and vulgar thing.

4. It is the element of sex were taken out, the dance would die.

5. It is a common thing among men. An ordinary man cannot dance continually without immoral thoughts.

He quoted dancing masters in regard to reforms necessary. "You might as well try to reform the saloon—it can't be done," he declared. He spoke of Episcopal and Catholic indictments against dancing.

Open Floodgates of Immorality.
"The whole pastime is preparing the way for the opening of the floodgates of immorality," he stated. (Continued on Page 3.)

LONDONDERRY RIOTS HAVE RENEWED VIOLENCE

Belfast, Ireland, April 19.—There was renewed rioting in Londonderry Sunday evening between unionists and Sinn Feiners, the police clubbing both impartially. Revolvers were used freely. Matthew Dehan was shot in the leg and lies in a critical condition. The fighting was so fierce at Carlisle bridge that pedestrians were unable to return to their homes and were stranded for the night.

Bride Killed on Wedding Trip, Caught in Traffic
Chicago, April 19.—A. M. McGuigan today returned to Alton, Ill., with the body of his wife on the same train they had intended to leave Chicago on at the end of five day honeymoon. Hundreds of persons leaving theaters saw Mrs. McGuigan knocked down and killed last night by a mail truck.

ULTIMATUM IS ASSURED; COUNCIL MEETS IN ITALY

PREMIERS DISAGREE ON FORM OF COMPULSION TO ENFORCE TERMS MEET AT SAN REMO

Turkish Question Delayed Due to Pressure on German Situation.

San Remo, April 19.—The inter-allied supreme council began its formal sessions today in the Villa Devauchau on the hills to the northwest of the main town.

While the Turkish question was on the program for first consideration by the conference today, it develops that there already has been discussion over the enforcing the execution of the Versailles treaty and that if she does not do so the allies will take measures to compel her.

Not Agreed on Pressure.
The premiers have not yet agreed on the form of pressure to be used should Germany repudiate the Versailles treaty.

Premier Lloyd George suggested economic pressure depriving Germany of food, raw materials and industrial products.

Premier Millerand is described as having said that such pressure without the use of naval or military aid would in effect be no pressure at all. He declared it would be another "make believe," and that Germany could conduct her economic business through the neutral countries in the same way.

The only warning that would be respected, the only pressure that would be effective, he asserted, would be force—the application of such force as the military and naval advisers deem sufficient.

Nitti Is With L. George.
Premier Lloyd George is said to have reiterated his conclusion. Premier Nitti inclined towards the British premier's view and the matter rests for the present.

Premier Mussolini made the form of ultimatum to Germany with the threat of applying effective compulsion in the event that form the compulsion might take.

BRYAN LIVENS UP PRIMARY CONTEST IN NEBRASKA, TUESDAY

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Lincoln, Neb., April 19.—Bad roads resulting from storms in Nebraska promised to reduce the voting in tomorrow's presidential preference election.

Gen. John J. Pershing, Major General Wood, and United States Senator Johnson of California, are expected to appear at the election. Mr. Johnson will run on both tickets.

Mr. Ross is the only candidate who has been nominated by the democratic ballot in opposition to United States Senator Hitchcock who toured the state asking support of President Wilson.

Added interest is given the democratic voters by the candidacy of W. J. Bryan, who is seeking a place on the party's ticket for the national convention and who said he would not support Senator Hitchcock because of the latter's opposition to submission of the federal prohibition amendment.

If the voters instruct for Senator Hitchcock, Mr. Bryan said he would allow an alternate to vote in his place while the national convention starts balloting.

FRANCE TO KEEP ARMY READY TO FIGHT

Paris, April 19.—France must maintain an army of 700,000 men until enemy countries "show their good faith" in the opinion of government officials, according to newspaper here. Plans under consideration call for 250,000 conscripts under training, 16 months service being required of each man.

Wages equal to those paid industrial workers received by other men and lodging provided by the government, would be paid enlisted men and conscripts who re-enlisted.

Hard Fighting on Polish Front Reported by Soviet

London, April 19.—Hard fighting in several sectors of the Polish front is reported by the Soviet government in its Sunday communique from Moscow. An advance by the Soviet in the Black Sea region is announced.

OVERALL WEARERS ARE CARRYING OWN LUNCHES IN BOXES

New York, April 19.—The Chicago club which introduced the south's overall campaign to New York, started a brand new attack on high prices by urging overall wearers to carry their own lunch boxes from home to work.

"Dollar and more" lunches are the reason for the "cost" move, it is claimed. The idea claim that in addition to the value of eating a comparatively cheap wholesome home made lunch, it is better to carry lunch boxes from home to work.

Revealing last year's steel strike Mr. Gary announced that the corporation would continue to maintain the open shop.

CITY IS PLACED ON SUGAR RATIONS

Rail Tieup Blamed for Two-Pound Edict — Potatoes High—Meat Arrives.

Janesville was on sugar rations today.

The regular customer, at some places, is able to secure as much as a two pound purchase. Otherwise one is fortunate if he can get a single pound.

A price of 25 cents reigned this morning. Retailers were said to be paying $2.25 per 100 pounds.

Indications are that the price will mount even higher, dealers say.

According to F. L. Wilbur of the Wilbur Grocery Co. to succession of strikes is really the basis for the exorbitant cost. First it was New York longshoremen, then dock workers in Cuba, and finally the rail men, and finally the present rail tie-up.

Spuds hit $1.50 mark.

Hand in hand with the condition of the sugar market another ordinary staple was today basking in the limelight of H. C. L. This was the lowly potato. It was being brought from $1.40 to $1.50 per bushel today. Word from the northern Wisconsin growing section is that warehouses are not yet exhausted, and enough tubers are in hand to avert such conditions as predominate but that there is a freight car shortage.

Meat. Western commission house quotations on potatoes this morning were:

Seed, Early Rose, $9; seed, Early Ohio, $9; New, Bermuda, $11; $23; Florida, hamper, $5.50; Texas, $7.50; Old, Round White, $8.00; old, West Dakota, $5.50.

Greens also plentiful.

Deliver is expected that much bigger crops than last year will be planted this season.

Elsewhere in the market. They are retailing at 25 cents per box.

Considerable greenstuff was on hand today, considering all adverse conditions. Much of it was brought overland by motor trucks. High prices reigned.

Trucks in Demand.

Six cars of merchandise and a car of meat arrived in Janesville today. The freight was from both Chicago and Milwaukee. Reports of the belief expressed Friday and Saturday rail conditions have not greatly improved it is learned and railway men believe the strike will continue further off than predicted during the middle of last week.

Other business companies report manufacturers bidding against each other for the use of the motors for hauls from Chicago and Milwaukee.

Natives From Overseas Learn What America Is

(BY PEG O'BRIEN)

After basking in the melting pot of the Americanization class of the evening school for 22 weeks, natives of Switzerland, Norway, Sweden, Austria, Belgium, and Greece, who are employed in this city, can now read and write English. They write business letters with ease and recite fundamentals of civil government with even greater fluency than their co-workers. This is shown by the fact that Joe and George, students in the class, asked 17 of their co-workers down at the plant who our representative in congress is and all confessed that Clifford E. Randall was a stranger to them.

Learn to Read From Primers.

The Americanization class, organized for the purpose of teaching foreigners to assimilate the ideals of the promised land, has been meeting at the high school, Tuesday and Thursday evenings, under the direction of Prin. George Bassford. Work at the beginning was teaching the pupils to read from primers. This is a more difficult task than to teach small children because of the fact that explanation is depending upon comparison is limited to the words of which the pupil knows the meaning and some of these pupils knew only a few English words. Words with two meanings were particularly confusing.

The word fairly came up one evening for explanation. Oh, yes, the man from Greece knew; he had seen it on the river at New York, and he explained the word.

Contractions Are Difficult.

Contractions like isn't were difficult for them to understand at first. After Mr. Bassford was able to make meanings clear by giving the pupil a word in his own language. The advanced pupils who knew more than a few English words were also assisted in translating.

A spring poem was the reading lesson one evening and the class was told to commit the verse to memory. A girl said that her 3-year-old charge knew some poems but they were just fooling words like the naughty little children who lost their mittens. Questioning brought out that they all knew many poems in their own languages.

Read Best Magazines.

Advanced pupils for some weeks have been reading the best magazines making a daily study of the newspapers. Bits of life in the old country come to light when Mr.

Bassford is appealed to to solve such problems as why George does not hear from his relatives in Austria. George has received a card from his mother and he has the letter to the old country has been returned. George tells how his uncle was prosperous before the war, but he is now destitute of the lands which once were so prosperous.

Social Positions Deified.

Joe, who was a resident of Vienna, saw how her class had changed all things, making a noticeable dent in social positions. His once wealthy landlord has written to him saying that he has returned to Austria after being a prisoner in Siberia for many months. He is poor, and appeals to Joe to purchase a draft from a local bank and send it to the American relief warehouse in Vienna, that he may go there and obtain food. Joe asked Mr. Bassford to purchase a draft to the amount of $10 to aid his friend.

Lived on Grass and Weeds.

The Belgian was teaching his pupils to read from primers. This is a more difficult task than to teach small children because of the fact that explanation is depending upon comparison is limited to the words of which the pupil knows the meaning and some of these pupils knew only a few English words. Words with two meanings were particularly confusing.

Each student had some personal part in the great war, which in a few instances was instrumental in bringing this one from Germany, that one from Austria. They all studied with great interest the map of new Europe, which Mr. Bassford brought to the class, conjecturing the fate of their mother countries under republican government.

Look Back at Chaos.

A few of the less optimistic, looking back on the chaotic conditions which they left behind, doubted that a sound government of the people was near at hand. Not many of the students have said they want to return to the mother country—though many have family ties over there.

And, studying the activities of the government in the sleep of Xpress, not few of the class were surprised to learn that congress and the president did not always agree, especially when it came to the peace treaty.

But right here, Joe, scanning the powers of the president, ran onto a few lines which said that the chief executive can make treaties only with the advice and consent of the senate. Ah, there's the rub!

YOUNG AND YOUNG

BILLY WHISKERS

BY FRANCES TREGO MONTGOMERY

When Woolly Ball dashed into the pond with her tail ablaze, Day and Night followed her to the edge, and you never saw such a sorry kid in your life as Night was when he found the woolly ball. He had been when she walked out of the water with only the bone of her tail hanging to her without a bit of wool on it. Oh, Woolly dear, sweet Woolly, do forgive me! I did not know the fire would burn you so," said Night, as he licked her face and kissed her, short, black nose.

"Yes!" chimed in Day, "do forgive him. He did not mean to hurt you, Woolly," and Day pleaded for her twin brother.

So Woolly Ball, being of a sweet, forgiving disposition, forgave him.

and the three ran off and played as if nothing had happened.

The next day Daisy had a little friend come to spend the day with her, and, of course, the thing to do was to play with the dog.

They were caught and carried up to the play-room, where they were dressed in doll clothes and had bread and milk to eat. The last they liked very much, but they did not like the clothes buttoned around their waists or the dolls' bonnets on their heads. And every time they got a chance when the children were not looking, they tried to tear them off and chew them up, and for this they were slapped and shut in the closet and told they must stay there until they promised to be good.

The minute Day found herself in the closet she began to cry, "Mah, bah, bah, mah!" as loud as she could. This the children took to mean, "I will be good," so they let her out. But Night was quiet, so they said he had to stay in until he promised to be good. Could they have looked in the closet and seen what Night was doing, they would have let him out in a hurry.

On a low shelf was a box of sweet crackers and two or three nice, red apples. These the ate, and had almost finished the box of crackers when the girls opened the door to see why he was so still, and there they saw him having a feast of the things he had put on the shelf for the baby.

"Oh! you naughty kid, you! I thought you must be in mischief, you were so still. Come right out here until I give you a good spanking!"

When Night heard the word "spank" he made a dive, and before either of them could stop him he had run between their legs and out of the room, with the doll's bonnet hanging on one ear and the apron trailing along the floor, and the steps and out of the house he went, with the children following after, calling to him to stop. But there was no stopping him, and he ran out into the barnyard and under the barn, where they could not catch him, and there he stayed while they got down on their knees and watched him. He bit, chewed and stamped on the doll clothes until he had pulled them off. Then he quietly lay down beside

Six more permits to erect new houses in Janesville were issued today and Saturday afternoon by the building inspector, Francis J. Blair, making a total of 24 permits of this nature issued since he took office.

Three of these granted today are for houses to be built by one man, Joseph T. Shields. The others are for three individuals.

Mr. Shields plans to erect three concrete dwellings at 1232-28 East State street, in the vicinity of the Hanson street, by Otto Beckman. Dimensions listed in the permit are 24x38.

Sever Larson will build a $3,500 house at 1232-28 East State street, dimensions 28x40; while Arthur Dix has secured a permit to build a 16x24 house at 634 South Pearl street.

Two Private Garages. Permits to build private garages have been issued to C. J. Whitacre, 122 Jefferson, and J. E. Stavous, 482 North Pearl street, and to S. Barker, 314 School street. Mr. Whitacre estimates the cost of his garage at $1,000.

Two remodeling and one wrecking permits were also issued. Mr. Blair advises that people installing gas-line tanks must secure a permit from him.

U.S. RAIL DEFICIT IS $1,129,000,000

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.) Washington, April 19.—Total loss to the government growing out of the federal control of the railroads was estimated today by the house appropriations committee of more than $1,129,000,000, including a guarantee of $325,000,000 estimated as guarantee to the roads under the terms of the transportation act.

The committee reported that the government loaned $502,000,000 to the railroads and said that since much of this went to weaker lines to prevent receivership during federal control, it is not probable that it would not be recovered.

The committee was reporting on the emergency deficiency appropriation in which $120,000,000 was authorized for the railroad administration. Director General Hines has asked for $420,000,000 to wind up the administration of the railroads. The committee estimated that the total $1,129,000,000 would be required to wind up the administration of the railroads.

It is alleged Oils collected it after Henderson had been taken to Madison on a liquor carrying charge.

Lading Bills to Be Issued. The guide carries with it the operation of another provision, said to be the first of its kind in transportation act requiring all railroads, irrespective of the ports which their ships serve, to issue through export bills of lading in connection with steamship lines shown in the guide.

Inauguration of the through bill of lading privilege, coupled with equalization of New York rates effective with last December, it was announced by the Southern's Foreign Commerce Service department, immediately will open to mid-west shippers full benefits of the service afforded by hundreds of monthly steamship sailings from Southern ports to foreign ports.

These cars, which others solidly loaded are expected to furnish when shipped through the additional cars for the return loading of southern domestic products to the north.

To perfect these arrangements and with a view to increasing cementing foreign trade relations with middle west shippers, the South Atlantic Ports association, the mid-western ports association, will operate a special train, carrying 200 delegates from South Atlantic states, beginning at Columbia, S. C., May 8, via the Humber, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Toledo, Detroit, Chicago, Davenport and the Tri-Cities, St. Louis, Kansas City, Indianapolis, Louisville, Chattanooga, and Atlanta.

FORWARD, JANESVILLE!

To make Janesville a better place in which to live and in which to do business, the Gazette pledges itself to work for the following things:

Housing survey to discourage exorbitant rentals; encouragement of building more houses; appraisal of property values so that rent profiteers may be made to pay the increased amount of taxes.

Open roads in the country 365 days of the year; better roads generally, and support of road building plans; better streets and more paved streets in the city.

A market pavilion in the city which may also be used for many other purposes by farmers and livestock producers.

A community building to be used for auditorium, sport events, meetings, rest rooms, and also as a fitting memorial for soldiers.

Open the churches seven days a week and stop economic waste of room and time. Make basements meeting places for the young, and provide gymnasium facilities.

Build a real home for the girls who come here to work.

Open the fair grounds this year as a recreation park with tennis courts and other play apparatus. Establish parks and playgrounds.

Better the street car service as population increases.

This day in 1775, the British went out from Boston to destroy stores of the colonists at Lexington and Concord. The column of red coats was attacked by the Minute Men who, firing from all the cover they could obtain, routed the British and thus began the actual hostilities of the revolution that was to change the world.

ON THE INTERNATIONAL PROLETARIAT.

ARTICLE I.

Why Socialism is opposed to the American Federation of Labor and the difference between the radical unions of Socialism and that organization.

In a series of editorial articles on the International Proletariat and the attempt to internationalize the world, the Gazette will endeavor to clearly analyze the movement which has caused most of the radical action of the past year. It is clear that a decided effort is being made to bring to pass a situation in America that will mean the establishment of a system utterly opposed to everything we have held most dear in our national life—the right to own property, the right of individual action, the right of free movement and free thought, the right of religious freedom, and the open road to any place or position within the gift of the people. In its place there is to be substituted mass action, force of revolution, confiscation of homes, and the merging of the individual into the mass, to be lost in identity and powerless against a dictatorship of the proletariat.

The whole difference between loyal labor and the radical kind which has its organized expression in America through the I. W. W., may be found in the resolutions which have been from time to time adopted by the American Federation of Labor. At the beginning of the war the Federation declared:

"We, the Officers of the National and International Trade Unions of America in national conference assembled in the capital of our nation, hereby pledge ourselves in peace or in war, in stress or in storm, to stand unreservedly by the standards of liberty and the safety and preservation of the institutions and ideals of our Republic."

At the American Federation Convention at Atlantic City last June it was declared:

"Whatever tends to undermine the institutions of the American democracy or to disintegrate the machinery of the American trade union movement must be contested at every step and defeated."

And as against an attempt to commit the Federation in favor of Bolshevism in one form or another, the following resolution was passed:

"Resolved, that this convention refuse its endorsement of the Soviet Government of Russia, or any other form of government in that country which is based on the overthrow of the existing order of government, through a constituent or other form of national assembly shall have established a truly democratic form of government."

These resolutions therefore make it impossible for the subscriber to the doctrine of socialism to affiliate with the Federation in harmony with its pledged faith. Without going into a long discussion of the collateral facts, the basic truths are sufficient. All socialism as we know it is founded on the doctrines of Karl Marx, and his fellow-theorist, Engels. In Marx's communist manifesto, 70 years ago, he says the object of the socialist-communist movement is to establish the "dictatorship of the proletariat" and by its establishment they will

"wrest by degrees all capital from the bourgeoisie and to centralize all interests of production in the hands of the state, that is of the proletariat organized as a ruling class."

In short the communists everywhere support every revolutionary movement against the existing social and political order of things.

"They openly declare that their ends can only be attained by the forcible overthrow of all existing social conditions. . . . The proletarians have nothing to lose but their chains. They have a world to win. Workingmen of all countries unite. Here, then, is the foundation of the "One Big Union" idea now being fostered by the I. W. W. and deluding a few, who think that men like the assassins of the American Legion parade at Contralla, Wash., will save them and their families from the bugaboo of "capitalism."

Over in Russia, Lenin uttered the same sort of manifesto. He said, in almost the identical language of Marx, 70 years before:

"The Soviet rule is nothing else than the organized form of the dictatorship of the proletariat."

The Russian workers in America, many members of which have been arrested and held for deportation, repeated the Lenin manifesto with additions. For America it was:

"We must mercilessly destroy all remains of governmental authority and class domination, liberating the prisoners, demolish prisons and police offices, destroy all legal papers pertaining to private ownership of property, all field fences and boundaries, and burn all certificates of indebtedness—in a word, we must take care that everything is wiped from the earth that is a reminder of the right to private ownership of property; to blow up barracks, gendarme and police administration, shoot the most prominent military and police officers, make the important centers of the revolting working people."

"We hate religion because it lulls the spirit with lying tales, takes away courage and faith in the power of man, faith in the triumph of justice here in the real earth and not in a chimerical heaven—And we declare war upon all gods and religious fables. We are taken from the book of its former secretary and treasurer, Vincent St. John, in harmony with Karl Marx and his "Manifesto" and "Das Kapital" of a half century ago with Lenin and the Russian workers. Here is a part of it:

"There is but one bargain the I. W. W. will

JUST FOLKS

Edgar A. Guest

THE PRICE.
"They say my boy is bad," she said to me,
A tired old woman, thin and very frail;
"They caught him robbing railroad cars," he
Must spend from five to seven years in jail.
His Pa, an I had hoped so much for him,
He was so pretty as a little boy."
Her eyes with tears grew very wet and dim
"Now nothing that we've got can give us joy!"

"What is it that you own?" I questioned then.
"The house we live in," she slowly said and replied.
"Two other folks are slaves for when
The boy was but a youngster at my side,
Some bonds we took the time he went to war;
I've spent my strength against the want of age—
We've always had some end to struggle for.
Now shame an' ruin smear the final page."

"His Pa has been a steady-go'n' man,
Worked day an' night an' overtime, as well;
He's lived an' dreamed an' sweated to his plan
To own the house an' profit should we sell;
He never drank nor played much cards at night,
He's been a worker since our wedding day,
He's lived his life to what he knows is right,
An' why should son of his now go astray?"

"I've rubbed my years away on scrubbing boards,
Washed floors for women that owned less than we,
An' while they played, the ladies an' the lords,
We smiled an' dreamed of happiness to be."
"And all this time was the boy?" said I.
"Out somewhere playin'!"—Like a rifle shot
The thought went home—"My God!" she gave a cry.
"We paid too big a price for what we've got."

make with the employing class—complete surrender of all control of industry to the organized workers.

"As a revolutionary organization the Industrial Workers of the World aim to use any and all tactics that will get the results sought with the least expenditure of time and energy. The tactics used are determined solely by the power of the organization to make good in their use. The question of 'right or wrong' does not concern us."

It grows plainer then why the man with a home and a family and a good American citizen, and also a member of the American Federation of Labor cannot be a member of the I. W. W. These manifestos also established the relation between the socialist party and the bolshevik. John Spargo has attempted to separate the socialists into two groups, but it has failed. One cannot be a socialist except as a more theorist and get away from Karl Marx. It would be as though a man declared he believed in Christianity without believing in Christ, or that he believed in the teachings of Christ and was endeavoring to follow them, but was not a Christian. In evidence of the closeness with which the socialists follow the Marx, Lenin, Russian Workers and I. W. W. declaration of revolutionary intentions, is the St. Louis platform with its somewhat camouflaged language. Then there is the platform of the Minnesota Socialists as published officially, which unhesitatingly joins the quadrangular declarations recited:

"It is the task of a revolutionary socialist party to direct the struggles of the proletariat . . . to accept a program of the following character:

(a) . . . Mass organizations . . . as the instruments for the seizure of the power of the State and the basis of the new proletarian state of the organized producers and the dictatorship of the proletariat;

(b) Workmen's control of industry to be exercised by the industrial organization (industrial unions or soviets) of the workers and the industrial vote, as against government ownership or state control of industry;

(c) Repudiation of all national debts;

(d) Expropriation of the banks—preliminary measure for the complete expropriation of capital; (e) Expropriation of the railways and the large organizations of capital—no compensation to be paid. . . .

"These are not the immediate demands, but imply a revolutionary struggle against a capitalistic state and against capitalism, the conquest of power of the proletariat through revolutionary mass action. They imply the new soviet state of the organized producers, the dictatorship of the proletariat."

These were some of the reasons why the socialists were expelled from the New York assembly. They had subscribed to and were dominated by pledges to take part in a revolution. These platforms and manifestos of the socialists in organization are almost identical with that of the butcher Lenin and the I. W. W. There may be socialists who love to discuss an impossible millennial world where by the alchemy of thought all things come to the man without weaving, or spinning, or without the hewing of wood or the drawing of water, but to the man in the lower there is but one process to attain the ends sought: destruction of all property rights, destruction of all existing organizations of labor, destruction of the present social conditions, organization into the mass and then revolution by force. And first on the program is the destruction of the American Federation of Labor.

These declarations, step by step, clear the way for an understanding of what the "proletariat," the dictators of socialism, the radical communists, and the people back of the "One Big Union," are all seeking to do—destroy the present government of the United States and set up in its place one of their own. The relations of all concerned are by their own utterances proved identical.

Backward Glances

FORTY YEARS AGO

April 15, 1880.—The worst hurricane in years struck the region about this city early last night and continued through the night. Janesville was on the western border of the storm and not much damage was done here. Torrents of rain fell. Shoppers received little of the rain and a great deal of the wind, hardly a house there but what was injured in some way.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

April 10, 1890.—Another steamer was launched on Rock river this afternoon, it being the "Jolly of the Rock" and belonging to Frank Metzinger. Rock river can now boast of quite a navy, there being on it four boats, two side-wheelers and two propellers—Spencer Phelps has fitted up a new machine shop on the corner of South River and Dodge streets.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

April 10, 1910.—The fourteen-year-old son of Harry Reamer accidentally shot himself last evening on the Kemmerer farm, while he was loading his shotgun, and is now in a serious condition. He was taken home and doctors called, who amputated his arm above the elbow. He has been growing weaker from the loss of blood.

TEN YEARS AGO

April 19, 1910.—A large number of cases of Hla-watha water will be sold at auction soon to pay for the rent on the building now being occupied by the Hla-watha Bottling works. The company cannot pay their rent and the party in Minneapolis who is interested in it will not pay. They had planned on having a large plant at Burr Springs.

Strength of Smoke Party

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

Washington, April 19.—Following hard upon the sensational announcement that Lucy Gaston Page, the Chicago woman, had been elected candidate for the presidency on an anti-tobacco platform, thus injecting smoke into the presidential race, the beclouded political situation, we have uncovered some highly significant facts, rumors and indications of sentiment in favor of the new phase of the presidential race.

Our reason for writing a piece on this subject is that everybody is now writing articles on the election, prediction, diagnosis and prognostication, setting forth at considerable length what will happen unless something else intervenes to make the opposite take place.

Trials to Observe Rules.
The rules for writing political articles are hard and fast and we have tried to observe them all. In the first place such a story should not be sensational, it should be a story and the sensation referred to should be described in the writer's imagination is equal to the task. The chief forces of the political situation should be rumor, cloak room gossip at the capitol, and public sentiment. Rumor is anything you want to make true. Cloak room gossip is anything that any member of congress may have said, or can be alleged to have said without provoking him to denial.

Having thus set forth the recipe we will now proceed to concoct the dish. Parenthetically it should be stated that we are not writing a sensational Page presidential boom as a subject, not because of any partiality to the candidate or her views, but because it seems to us that the least expenditure of time and energy, and the least risk of failure, is to write a story which is called into question ever smokes a pipe. Can you imagine Theda Bara operating a corn-cob pipe?

And this brings us to the subject of our story—the strength of the opposition to the anti-smoke crusade. It is among the pipe smokers of America. It seems clear to us that organized public opinion can make a thing of hideous iniquity, so that no congressmen can vote against cigarette prohibition and save his neck, and face the existing clubs and the chauntasquas.

It seems not improbable that the cigar can be made to share its fate. But it will require a long and hard battle, and especially of the corn-cob pipe, which will sell for five cents and millions of millions of Americans who live in the country—the traditional home of virtue, moral rectitude, wholesomeness and family life. There is no smoking and gnashing of teeth when the workman partied with his beer mug, but that disturbance was nothing as compared with the what that will arise if the farmer is weaned from his cob pipe.

Just Have to Smoke.
This is not taken wholly as an indication of opinion on the anti-smoke platform. The fact must be taken into consideration that a pledged anti-smoke delegate could not consistently smoke while discharging his duties as a delegate, and that no one could sit through either a legislative session or a convention without smoking, and live until the final vote. This practical difficulty, it is thought, may make necessary the adoption of special convention for the nomination of a candidate, at which smokers will be barred but other anesthetics will be administered to the delegates during the speaking by licensed practitioners.

Smoke Is Health Question.
Wayne B. Wheeler, whose middle name should be byline, went on to explain to us why it is that the Anti-Saloon league will not back Lucy. In the first place, he said, the

Voice of the People

Editor Gazette:
In an attempt to usurp the powers of government, the Chamber of Commerce is trying to force upon the people the daylight saving scheme.

Since this organization has laid its grip on the developments of Janesville industry, daylight is about the only thing the worker has any hope of saving. I have reasons to believe that this move is somehow intended to save the employer and ruin the worker. If the Chamber of Commerce cared to put a little energy back of obtaining street cars for the city, many workers could save an hour each day that is now spent getting to and from work on the antiquated equipment of the Janesville Traction company, which I presume, is a loyal, moral and financial supporter of the C. of C. If the C. of C. is so deep interested in saving daylight for the worker and affording hours of recreation, why did it a few years ago desire to regulate the hours of workmen the eight-hour day? It didn't seem to care then whether we had time to attend garden, neither was it concerned about hours of recreation for the workers.

I believe that such moves as this should be put to a referendum, and not be put into operation by capitalists' organizations attempting to develop the dictatorship of the capitalists to the detriment of the representatives of the people.

I believe that when that great emancipator, Abraham Lincoln, said "A government of the people, for the people and by the people shall not perish from the earth," he also included the government for the people, and he would have said that.

There is no reason why the city administration should pay any attention to the C. of C. in such matters. The Chamber of Commerce has no right to work in the daylight saving plan. Thinking workers realize that the only way they can gain an hour for themselves and families is to reduce the working hours by one.

Anti-Saloon league is concerned solely with the liquor question. The saloon place, as you know, the question of smoking is regarded primarily as a health question, while drink is a menace to morals as well as to health. At this season, however, said, he does not believe that legislators would pass laws laying an absolute prohibition upon smokers, that could be enforced by such laws.

He inferred, what we believe to be true, that in order to make an American legislative or judicial body live up to a play dead and beg or jump through a hoop, you have to raise a real or imaginary moral issue. A little thing like health is not held in as high regard as such laws.

Has Some Moral Supporters.
There are others who do not believe that the anti-smoke cause is without appeal to the better, more American sense of moral righteousness. We have thoroughly canvassed public sentiment on this subject and we find that there is a widespread feeling that the cigarette is distinctly a risqué thing. The term cigarette fiend, for example, is taken with contempt and depravity. And fiction and the drama and the movies have done their part to lead the cigarette into disrepute.

White slavers, thugs, cracksmen, errand husbands, vampires male and female, villains and villainesses of all kinds, liars, cheats and scoundrels, smoke cigarettes. They seldom smoke anything else. A plutocratic villain may nistate a large black chest to which he is entitled by status, but he is called into question ever smokes a pipe. Can you imagine Theda Bara operating a corn-cob pipe?

And this brings us to the subject of our story—the strength of the opposition to the anti-smoke crusade. It is among the pipe smokers of America. It seems clear to us that organized public opinion can make a thing of hideous iniquity, so that no congressmen can vote against cigarette prohibition and save his neck, and face the existing clubs and the chauntasquas.

It seems not improbable that the cigar can be made to share its fate. But it will require a long and hard battle, and especially of the corn-cob pipe, which will sell for five cents and millions of millions of Americans who live in the country—the traditional home of virtue, moral rectitude, wholesomeness and family life. Smoke Is Health Question.
Wayne B. Wheeler, whose middle name should be byline, went on to explain to us why it is that the Anti-Saloon league will not back Lucy. In the first place, he said, the touring cars, seeking the coolest places in the city or country, until they are contented to retire to their screened-in porch, where they sleep comfortably as long as they wish.

Daylight saving is a delusion and a snare to make the worker believe he is getting something he is not, and is of that same old capitalist propaganda which declares that there are no classes.

Editor Gazette:
The city of Janesville is housing facilities, not cars as per your Voice of the People in Thursday's issue. No one wants our wives. When we say we want to save the daylight, it is off.

There are many houses in town for sale, but none for rent, for we must live until such time as we can get a house. The young ladies who come to Janesville to work experience the same difficulty. Finding a shelter as to our wives and daughters is always pressing and washing and musing around."

How about boys?
I know an early woman who keeps eight boys. Her house is large enough for eight more, but she claims that eight are an ideal family. She keeps the boys she has diversified for girls and none come to her. Finally she took the boys. She charges $2 a week per boy, has them all to press their suits, wash their clothes, iron them, sew, and if girls could "muss around" more than the boys, she would show me. Don't the Samson people have to live?

Didn't Samson make your old hide-bound town?
Were you a dyed-in-the-wool "small town" before our advent?
To be sure, we need street cars and bus service, but we need a place to sleep and to live.

A MARRIED MAN.
Editor Gazette:
Let the factories change their own clocks. When the high school children started a half hour earlier they were the first to get to school in their clocks one-half hour ahead.

Then why, if a few factories want that hour, don't they change the clocks in the factory and take the little children going to school to lose that hour in the morning? No matter how early a child goes to bed, it's hard to get them to rise that hour earlier.

Any mother will say so. So let us all have the sunrise, except the few early risers. Let them have their. A MOTHER.

ROY K. BOULTON

SO DO WE ALL.
I'm weary of the well-worn way
Between my office and my home;
I have tread it twice a day
At glimmering morn, at glimmering gloam.

I'm resolutely fond of work,
And of my home I'm even fonder;
It's just these narrow tracks that
Irk—
I want to wander.

This morning I would step aside
And follow footpaths faint and far
That lead along a track untired
To Nowhere in Particular.
There's Somewhere Else, and Over There,
And down the Pike, and 'Way Out
All very pleasant places, where
I want to wander.

Perhaps it is the spring that calls,
Perhaps it's only laziness;
Through all the land a chill rain falls
And makes the road an awful mess.
I dare not leave the beaten track,
Yet, though I'm certain I ponder
That if I went I'd hurry back,
I want to wander!

Neither do we.

A Boston man was robbed of five barrels of whisky while he was at church. A man who is rich enough to own five barrels of whisky ought to be able to have a private chapel right in his house.

What woods are most resistant to decay?
A. The use of woods in airplanes has caused experiments to be made regarding the resistance to decay of various woods. Spruce, which has been extensively used in airplane production, is not particularly durable. Redwood and white oak, however, and California redwood are very resistant to decay.

How can one make frosting be made that does not become brittle? M. Y.

The following recipe is excellent: One cup and a half of sugar, three-fourths cup cold water, pinch of cream of tartar; boil until the syrup threads; add a pinch of cream and beat to the whites of two eggs and beat to a stiff froth. Add syrup, and a teaspoon of flavoring. Beat until cool. The cream of tartar keeps the frosting soft and light.

What species of birds never incubate their young? W. A. S.

A. The brush turkey, an Australian bird, does not incubate its eggs. It builds a huge mound for a nest, within which the eggs are left to be hatched by heat caused by the decay of vegetable matter in the heap.

Who built the Brooklyn bridge?
A. John M. Roebling was chosen chief engineer in 1868 for the construction of the Brooklyn bridge. He completed the design, but died from an injury before the bridge was completed in 1883. His son, Washington Augustus Roebling, changed the plans, completed the bridge and carried out the work to completion. His devotion to the work, and almost continuous presence in the compressed-air caisson produced an illness which confined him to his room—from which he directed the work from 1873 to 1885.

DIAMOND CUT DIAMOND

By JANE BUNKER

Copyright by the Bobbs-Merrill Co.

It was Mrs. Delario. When I saw her, you could have knocked me down with a feather. I let her in and whisked her into my bedroom and shut the door on us. My first thought was Billy—he had naturally looked down the hall when I went to the door—and I knew he'd guess immediately who it was; but though I had told her the part he had played in our adventure, she hadn't met him and I had the presence of mind not to spring him on her. I'd found out that she came for. She had caught sight of him and now spoke in a whisper.

"You can't guess what's happened."

"What next?" I gasped, almost in a whisper.

"Monsieur has simply dumped Claire back on my hands and dumped—without a word of real explanation."

HARRY McAVOY, well-known Los Angeles hotel man, who says he spent a small fortune and tried every treatment money could buy without getting relief, until he tried Tanlac. Says he suffered for twenty years.

"In 1900 I suffered a general breakdown and during these 20 years I spent a small fortune searching for health," said Harry McAvoy, with the Alexandria Hotel of Los Angeles, one of the largest and finest hotels in southern California. "I went to the best specialists in New York, Chicago, New Orleans and Seattle. I tried every medicine and treatment money could buy, but the best I could do was to get a little temporary relief. Finally I gave out completely under the strain and had to quit work altogether. I was terribly discouraged over my condition and felt that I would be an invalid for the rest of my days."

"I had indigestion in its worst form. In fact, I was a confirmed dyspeptic, nothing agreed with me and I suffered from all the terrible symptoms of indigestion. My heart palpitated so badly I thought I had heart trouble and I would get so weak and faint at times I would stagger, and several times I fell flat in my tracks before I could support myself."

"I was absolutely afraid to eat, for it meant nothing but suffering afterward and I would have awful pains and burnings in the stomach and chest. Sleep? Why, I didn't know what it was to get a night's sleep. I would lie in bed a while and then get so restless I would have to get up and walk the floor. I was almost a nervous wreck and couldn't even sit still and write a letter. I lost so much weight and strength I was almost too weak to walk, and I honestly believe no man in this world suffered any more than I did."

"Last September I realized I could hold out no longer, and as I had read a great deal about Tanlac, I set my mind to give it a trial. Well, sir, it was the greatest and happiest surprise of my life, for I began to feel better right away. My appetite improved, I began to sleep better and my strength gradually returned. So I kept right on taking the medicine and in only a few weeks' time my troubles had all left me and I found I had gained 15 pounds in weight."

"From that day to this I have positively been in the best health I ever enjoyed in all my life. I never have an ache or pain, I eat anything I want and don't suffer any bad after-effects at all; in fact I feel just like a new man and have plenty of strength and energy. My nerves are steady and strong; I never have a dizzy spell and my sleep is restful and refreshing."

"Tanalac has been worth its weight in gold to me and all the money on earth could not buy the good it has done me."

Tanalac is sold in Janeville by McCue & Russ, and leading druggists in every town.

"Oh, never!"

"It's what he's done! And I'm in the worst pickle! What does it all mean? He came last evening and told me he'd just seen you and you told him I had the diamonds."

"What a lie!" I burst out involuntarily.

"And then this morning—before I'm even out of bed—this comes by a messenger." She had drawn out a letter from her bag; she took it out of the envelope and handed it to me, remarking at the same time, "There was fifty dollars in it." The letter read:

"Dear Madame Delario:

"I was unable to return according to promise because of telegraphic communication notifying me that my wife—Claire's mother—was probably ill with a fatal illness and I am leaving for California immediately. My child knows nothing of her mother's illness, and the reason of my sudden departure. I am concealing it from her by saying that it is a diplomatic business which calls me away. I could not be so cruelly to subject her so sensitive nature to anxiety and shock of long journey when she could not hope to see her mother alive."

"I am sure in human kindness take pity on her once more and shelter her for a few days, keeping her from the knowledge of this calamity. I am sure I shall be able to communicate with you in a few days. My gratitude," etc.

"And Claire followed it in an hour," Mrs. Delario whispered.

"Did he bring her?"

"No—he sent her in a carriage. Of course he didn't bring her! He didn't take any chances of my refusing to keep her for him."

"Poor child!" I exclaimed. "She was devoted to her mother—it will be a terrible blow to her."

"I sympathized with her—taking the letter from my hand and glancing at it before she answered: 'You think for a minute there's anything the matter with Claire's mother, do you?'"

"There isn't?"

"Why, of course not! . . . Oh, I know," she answered the question she must have read in my face, "I psychometrized this note as soon as I got it. That man can't deceive me. He's scheme and plot all over it."

"She held it a moment in a testing set of way, running her fingers back and forth over it, then pinned it in my hand, asking: 'Can't you feel the occult influences?' and looked at me she expected me to reply that I didn't feel anything, and she plain as anything. Which I couldn't. She seemed disappointed and put the letter into its envelope and thrust it into her husband, remarking: 'It's part of a scheme he's working. I haven't made out the rest of it—I'm not clear on it yet, though I know it's something—tricky.'"

"And you think he didn't go to California?"

"I'm sure he didn't—I can't see a journey for him—I mean an immediate journey. There are journeys all around him—he travels a great deal, but I don't see anything for today—or tomorrow; there's nothing like that near. But I do get the word—clairaudiently—'Hiding.' That doesn't help things very much for us, if he's here."

"Or for Claire!"

Dinner Stories

Shortly after the arrival of the professional play producer, a young amateur came up and, much to his annoyance, began telling him what to do.

"I must have a part to suit me," he said. "I am always one of the principals in our productions, and I want to be the first banana in the fruit-market scene."

"You must allow me to be the best judge of a suitable cast," was the dry reply.

A few days later, at rehearsal, the cast chosen was read out, and the name of the budding Irving was omitted.

"Why am I not given a part?" he asked in great rage.

"You have not been overlooked," the great man replied with dignity. "You are to be the first banana in the fruit-market scene."

In Paris a Y. M. C. A. man from Missouri ran into a soldier from his home state. They had a great time talking about Missouri and its people.

"Did you ever attend a fish-ry on Salt River?" the soldier asked.

"Sure! I've been there," the Y. M. C. A. man replied.

"Then you know what it is to really eat!" exclaimed the soldier.

"Also I've been to a frog-leg banquet in Kansas," the Y. M. C. A. man added.

"Kenneth, Missouri!" exclaimed the soldier, admiringly. "Why, man, you've been everywhere!"

"I should think that a stuttering man would, naturally be a good grammarian," the Y. M. C. A. man said.

"Because he is so familiar with the parts of speech?"

Every man knows too many things that are none of his business.

"I dread putting away all this winter stuff," complained Lucy.

"Do it thoughtfully, then, and do it well," said her mother. "You will find the pleasure that comes from efficiency. Do things in order, classify, wrap, label. First get the coats ready, then create order out of chaos."

So Lucy cleared the big table. At one end she placed a stack of clean newspapers, string, scissors, white paper, pen and ink, and a glass of home made paste. Already, all the clothes which needed washing had been washed and were clean. Others, that needed brushing, had been brushed.

1919 Fire Losses Largest in History of Manila

Manila, P. I.—Fire losses in Manila during 1919 were the largest in the history of the city, amounting to $10,000,000. The fire department reported the losses in 1919 amounted to $6,000,000. The fire department reported the losses in 1919 amounted to $6,000,000. The fire department reported the losses in 1919 amounted to $6,000,000.

will get expert advice, too, from the firm which is establishing the hives. Then, when autumn comes, or in some cases, several times in the summer, the expert will gather the honey for his firm, allowing a certain percentage to the young apiarist. Some-bees to pass from one to another, but not enough room for the bees to build combs.

Another "efficiency" system has been applied to bee-keeping, by which the bees are given a foundation on which they can build their six-sided cells with perfect regularity. Bees are like people, if a labor-saving device is ready for use, they will use it. By means of this wax foundation, the bees have more time to gather honey, and, consequently, gather more honey.

The boy or girl who wants to make money out of bees should use these modern frames, fitted with foundations. Honey is a staple and sure of steady sale, but the intending beekeeper should remember that the value of the honey will depend on the flowers in the vicinity. Thus a boy living in the suburbs of a country town will succeed, where a boy in the suburbs of an industrial town would fail.

In October, 1919, as compared with October, 1918, the number of persons employed in stock raising labor in Great Britain shows an increase of 72.4 percent. The cement trade shows an increase of 67 percent. The food preparation trades, an increase of 40.1 percent; quarrying, an increase of 38.6 percent; and the printing trade, an increase of 38.4 percent. The largest decrease—5.6 percent—appears in iron and steel.

This has been made possible by the modern system of bee-keeping. The bees are taught by Nature to make honey; modern business has taught them to make money. This has been done by the modern frame hive, which is a simple and sure of steady sale, but the intending beekeeper should remember that the value of the honey will depend on the flowers in the vicinity. Thus a boy living in the suburbs of a country town will succeed, where a boy in the suburbs of an industrial town would fail.

times the representative of the honey concern will take all the honey and pay the boy in cash for his percentage.

Any fool knows enough to carry an umbrella when it rains, but the wise man is he who carries one when it is only cloudy.

Any man will send for a doctor when he gets bedfast, but the wiser one is he who adopts proper measures before his illness becomes serious. During a hard winter or the following spring one feels run-down, tired out, weak and nervous. Probably you have suffered from a cold, the Grip or flu, which has left you thin, weak and pale. This is the time to put your system in order. It is time for house-cleaning.

A good, old-fashioned alterative and temperance tonic is one made of wild roots and barks, without the use of alcohol, and called Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, in tablet or liquid form. RAIN BREAKS INTO SAMSON NINE PLANS

Cancels Playing of Game With Winnipeg on Whitewater City Park Diamond Yesterday.

(BY FRANK SINCLAIR)
Old Juke Plutus got in his dirt work yesterday and as a result there was no baseball game at Whitewater between the Samson Tractor team and the Winnipeg nine of the Northern league. The rain, which began during the early morning hours of the night, stopped about 7 o'clock, but it left the dirt field in the City park in the neighboring town a mass of slush mud.

Clear, But Field Bad
When King Sol got out at 2:30, 15 minutes before the time schedule for the game, and commenced to dry up the puddles and the field, the disappointment of many nearby communities put away their money. Lacked their garage doors and settled down to the Sunday papers or went to the clubs or other hang-outs dis-gusted.

Some time this week, perhaps at the end of the tractor club will run over to Milton college nine. The "varsity" team has been playing with the University of Wisconsin and Beloit college and is going strong.

WASHINGTON LIGHTS
WHITEWASH GARFIELD

By a score of 6 to 0, Washington school lights walked away from Garfield in a grammar school league basketball game at the City Saturday night. The Washington team, which was coached by Coach Miller, was the victor in the game.

TEENIE WEENIES BEAT JR. WHITE SOX, 10-6

With Huett allowing only seven scattered hits and striking out nine men, the Teenie Weenies, Janesville's first baseball team of 14-year old boys, trounced the Junior White Sox 10 to 6 in a game at the Fourth Ward park yesterday. Errors on Huett's pitching permitted the Sox to get only singles. Folk mounted the hill for the Sox, and lost on five passed balls.

The Teenie Weenies took a forfeit from the Giants, who failed to put in an appearance.

FACTORY ATHLETES ARE BOOSTING BASEBALL

Sheboygan—The Manufacturers' league has been organized for the coming baseball season and much interest is being manifested by the factory athletes. C. A. Kroos has been re-elected president. Clemens Rice vice president, and Edwin Craft secretary. It is planned to have an eight club league. If daylight saving is adopted here, twilight ball will be played. Otherwise, games will be staged Saturday afternoons.

BRINGING UP FATHER

As You Were

By BUCK.
Of the Stars and Stripes A. E. F.

DISCHARGED
Now it's time to draw the curtain. On the window of the world, now it's time to brush away the cobwebs of the past. For my heart is all uncertain. When the sails of spring, unfurled, start tugging at the guy, Outbound tireless!

Now it's time to lock the shutter. Bar the door and clench the fist. Time to bend the wavering will. And bow the knees. Last we hear the tidewash mutter. Last we feel the flying mist. Last we catch the calling thrill Of seven seas.

For tomorrow is before us. And the wander days are done. Though a waning wind may call From every field. Though the very skies implore us. We know the sand has run. We are given now in thrall. And dare not yield.

Lots of men save enough to buy a swell humidor, says ex-Sergeant SOL, by never having but one cigar handy at a time.

AN INCOME TAX TRAGEDY
Sometimes we feel that it is a good thing justice is blind, for if she weren't, she'd probably weep her eyes out watching for the result of some of her actions.

A woman without other means was left $15,000 at her husband's death. With it she went to a lawyer whom she knew.

"Take it," she said, "and speculate. I shall always have to work for aliving anyhow and if it is lost I shall say nothing more."

The lawyer advised against it and only when she said she would take it elsewhere did he agree. In a few weeks he presented her with a check for $75,000 and begged her to put it by. She went away but only to return in a few weeks, saying that her friends said she was foolish, after this piece of good fortune not to try her luck again. The lawyer refused to take the money and she went elsewhere with it.

In a month it had vanished into thin air.

Not long after she came to her lawyer again, this time with some government papers which she didn't understand. Her lawyer took them and went to Washington. When he came back he told her that his mission had failed.

She is now hard at work, trying to earn enough money to pay her income tax on the $75,000 that was part (and all) of her income for 1919.

WEARING OF THE GREEN

O, happy dear, and did you hear The news that's going round?

FAIR GOLF CHAMP WILL PLAY STARS OF BRITISH ISLES

Miss Alexia Sterling "following through a drive."

Miss Alexia Sterling, woman golf champion of the U. S., who won the title twice in succession, is planning a trip to England this summer to play in the British women's championship tourney.

SAMSON RECEIVING ROOM WINS TWICE

Opening the season with a double header, playing right on through the lunch hour and getting out a crowd of rooters including many of the office girls, George Berger's "Old Reliable" Room boys of the Samson Tractor company displayed their wares and won two fast games of ball on the Tractor grounds Saturday afternoon. They defeated the Carpenters 2 to 0 and then switched around and swatted the Millwrights for a score of 8 to 3.

While tight pitching and good playing featured the opening contest with the Carpenters and held the fans hungry for the excitement came when the Millwrights, dolled up in last year's Samson uniforms trotted on the field and were challenged by the receiving boys of "Old Reliable" Berger twirling his team again to victory. The fun came in the third inning. The score was tied and Samson's of the Millwrights made a startling double play to attempt to place his side in the winning.

Baseball Tips

By A. A. H.

Old Dame Rumor has packed her old kit bag, not to return till the Hot Stove league reopens next fall. We'll have the real dope coming in today, fans.

Kids under 14 can get in to see the American league contest at St. Louis for two bits. Bobby Quinn likes this better than "ganging" them together as is done at the National league park.

The showing made by the Griffins against the Cincinnati Reds more than offset the defeats suffered by the Cuban All Stars at Tampa.

Phil Ball of the St. Louis Browns says there is a tremendous demand for reserved box seats. Some think the reason is that the failure of Phil to enlarge his seating accommodations has scared people who had to fight to get in last year on his days.

Clyde Allan of the Senators, seems to have found himself once more. His performances have been encouraging to Griff so far.

Jacinto Galvo, outfielder of the Havana All Stars, who loved finger this country as a Washington prospect, did some great fielding against the Senators. It is understood San Francisco has some claim on him.

Bernie Koob, transferred by St. Louis Americans to Louisville, should come back soon. He attributes his failure to return to his old form because of service as an aviator. Koob came from college to the big leagues before he lost his first voice, and hasn't even reached the age when a pitcher performs at his best.

Just where and how is the money to be spent?

A businesslike Answer to a businesslike Question

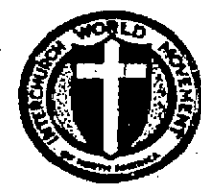

THIRTY denominations cooperating in the Interchurch World Movement have budgeted their needs. No business could have done it more scientifically.

They have united to prevent the possibility of duplication or waste. At least a million dollars will be saved by the fact that thirty individual campaigns are joined in one united effort.

Each denomination has arranged its needs under six main heads as shown at the left.

Each denomination has its own detailed budget, and will administer its own funds. Your pastor has copies of the budget; examine them for yourself. In the week of April 25th-May 2nd you will be given your opportunity to help. You can do it with the full satisfaction of knowing that every dollar of your gift has its post of service assigned to it in advance.

Every dollar for a better America and a better world. When your church calls on you, give—and give from your heart as well as from your pocket-book
